

Driving Principles of New Delhi Centre for Leadership & Global Excellence

Organizations spend millions on learning and development. This spend is only expected to increase. However, confidence in training effectiveness remains a big question mark. The answer lies with NDCLGE.

New Delhi Centre for Leadership & Global Excellence is there to fill the skill and knowledge gaps which exists amongst professionals from all sectors. We train our participants holistically keeping the main characteristics of adult principles in mind. Therefore our programs are not only practical and collaborative but also keeps the end objective in mind i.e. "The Goal accomplishment."

NDCLGE has been conducting various MDPs and workshops for National and International conglomerates which includes government and private sector organizations.
